DETAILED ACTION

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114.

Applicant's submission filed on 8/1/05 has been entered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

3. Claims 1-5, 7-10, and 11-13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Bouchier et al. (U.S. Patent No. 6,839,771 hereinafter "Bouchier").

Art Unit: 2182

4. Referring to apparatus claims 1 and 12, Bouchier teaches a device comprising:

a processor (see lines 47 of column 4 to line 2 of column 5); and a single I/O interface coupled to the processor, comprising a host port; and a peripheral port wherein the host port and the peripheral port are defined using predetermined signals and wherein the peripheral port and the host port are both active at the same time (see lines 47 of column 4 to line 2 of column 5, not the USB device communicate in a peer-to-peer relationship).

5. Referring to claim 7, Bouchier teaches a USB network comprising:

a first device; the first device including a single I/O interface, the interface including a host port and a peripheral port, wherein the host port and the peripheral port are defined using predetermined signals (see figure 2 and line 47 of column 4 to line 2 of column 5); and a second device for communicating with the first device, the second device using the predetermined signals, wherein the peripheral port and the host port are both active at the same time (see figure 2 and lines 17-32 of column 5).

6. Referring to claims 2,8, and 9, Bouchier teaches the host a peripheral ports are USB ports and the predetermined signals are within the USB standard (see lines 47 of column 4 to line 2 of column 5).

7. Referring to claim 3, Bouchier teaches the two connected devices utilizing the single I/O interface can have a peer-to-peer connection via the host port and the peripheral port (see lines 17-32 of column 5).

8. Referring to claim 4, Bouchier teaches two connected devices using a single I/O interface can have a one-to-many relationship via either the host port and/or the peripheral port (see figure 2 and lines 17-32 of column 5).

9. Referring to claims 5 and 13, Bouchier teaches the device needs only one physical I/O port via the connector that includes a host port and a peripheral port which are defined using the predetermined signals (see items labeled USB controller in figure 2).

Art Unit: 2182

10. Referring to claim 10, Bouchier teaches the first and second device can any of a camera, a computer, a personal digital assistant, laptop device, handheld device, printer, and cellular phone (see lines 17-32 of column 5).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

11. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

12. Claims 6,11, and 14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Bouchier in view of Hanson et al. (U.S. Patent No. 6,460,094 hereinafter "Hansen").

13. Referring to claims 6,11, and 14, Bouchier fails to teach the predetermined signals comprise host differential data lines and peripheral differential data lines.

Hansen teaches, in an analogous system, the above limitations (see lines 52-65 of column 4).

Art Unit: 2182

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the applicant's invention to modify the apparatus and system of Bouchier with the above teachings of Hansen. One of ordinary skill in the art would have been motivated to make such modification in order to use the USB devices in legacy USB systems.

Response to Arguments

14. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1, 7, and 12 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
